H2: About me:

H3: Qualifications:

The name's Robin Larsen, thanks for taking an interest =)

Some of the things I value most are compassion, a healthy dose of humility and a willingness to learn.
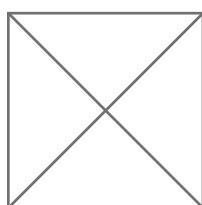

I have taken 2 years of studies in Front-end Development at Noroff Bergen, and before that I had some education in media and graphic design.
My primary strengths lie in visual design and I'm always looking to improve and explore exciting ways to give a website an inviting and personality-laden profile.

This site is mostly about showcasing some of my work, specifically the school projects I have worked on that I am most satisfied with. Most are assignments provided by the school and personal projects, along with the occasional website built after the specifications of clients who approached my class for help.
